

Draw the limits of what you think the visual fields of each of these species should look like based on the placement of their eyes.

owl

starling

mallard